

The U.S. –China Policy Foundation

美中政策基金会

*Est. 1995
Washington, DC*

Mission and Goals

The U.S.-China Policy Foundation is the only non-profit organization in the U.S. capital solely dedicated to promoting and improving U.S.-China relations. The U.S.-China Policy Foundation is committed to building bridges and mutual understanding between the U.S. and China through people-to-people diplomacy, education, engagement, cultural exchanges, and business dialogue.

Background

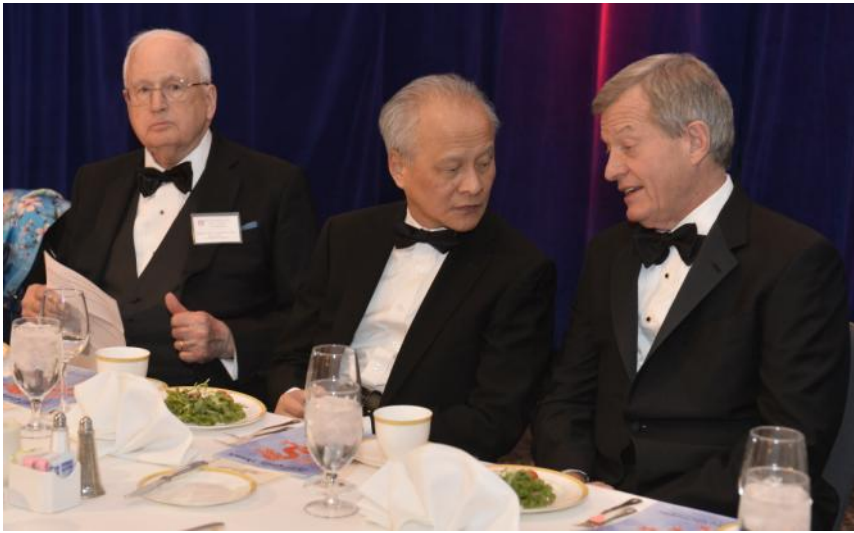

The U.S.-China Policy Foundation (USCPF) was founded in 1995 by the current USCPF president, Professor Chi Wang, and the late Ambassadors John H. Holdridge and Arthur Hummel, Jr. The founders dedicated their careers as diplomats and scholars to fostering better relations between the U.S. and China. Holdridge joined Dr. Kissinger on his secret trip to China in 1971. Wang traveled to China in 1972 on behalf of the U.S. government to establish cultural and educational exchange programs during the delicate period of rapprochement. Hummel, who had been born in China to American missionary parents, served as the U.S. Ambassador to China from 1981-1985.

They founded USCPF to continue their work. Over the years, disagreements have continued to cause occasional friction between the U.S. and China. Unfortunately, these disputes have been exacerbated by misunderstandings and misconceptions that stem from different cultural and political histories. USCPF hopes to bridge these gaps, improve understanding, and foster an environment that allows for a more productive bilateral relationship.

USCPF is a 501(c)3 nonprofit organization. USCPF is nonpartisan and also does not receive government funding, ensuring that it remains impartial and free from outside influence. USCPF works closely with scholars, policymakers, and the general public to achieve a deeper level of communication and understanding, and promote bilateral exchange and people-to-people ties.

Programs and Events

- Educational delegations to China for the senior congressional staff, track II military delegations, and business delegations allowing American companies to meet with Chinese officials and Chinese companies.
- Fall, spring, and summer internship programs training young Americans to become future leaders and policymakers in U.S.-China relations.
- Public panels and discussions on current topics related to U.S.-China relations.
- Dialogues and exchanges between U.S. and Chinese officials, scholars, and business leaders. USCPF also welcomes Chinese leaders when they visit the U.S., including President Xi Jinping.
- Various publications including The Washington Journal of Modern China and a variety of books and reports written by scholars and USCPF Board Members.
- The China Forum television program, where subject area experts are interviewed about timely issues related to China and U.S.-China relations.
- Cultural events, including art exhibits, film screenings, and displays of historical photos.

Top (L to R): Amb. J. Stapleton Roy, U.S. Ambassador to China 1991-95; Amb. Cui Tiankai, Chinese Ambassador to the U.S. (2013-Present); and Amb. Max Baucus, U.S. Ambassador to China (2014-17) and U.S. Senator from Montana (1978-2014) at USCPF's 2017 Gala Dinner; Center Left: USCPF Co-Chairman Ambassador James Sasser (left) shakes hands with then vice president Xi Jinping in 2012 at an event co-hosted by USCPF in Washington, DC; Center Right: Congressman Rick Larsen, Co-Chair of the Congressional U.S.-China Working Group (USCWG), speaks at USCPF's 2015 Gala Dinner; Bottom: Marco Polo Bridge Incident and WWII in China Photo Exhibit Held at the Senate Russell Rotunda in 2017

Top: 2017 Policymakers Congressional Staff Delegation at the Ministry of Foreign Affairs; Center: 2015 Ageless Chinese Art Exhibition at George Mason University; Bottom: 2017 Panel on China's 19th Party Congress

Board Members

Dr. Chi Wang

Co-Chairman and President, U.S.-China Policy Foundation
Head of Chinese Section at the U.S. Library of Congress (retired)

The Honorable James Sasser

Co-Chairman, U.S.-China Policy Foundation
U.S. Ambassador to China (1995-2001); U.S. Senator (1976-1995)

The Honorable Donald M. Anderson

Consul General in Shanghai (1980-83) and Hong Kong (1986-90)
President, U.S.-China Business Council (1991-94)

Dr. David M. Lampton

Director of China Studies, Johns Hopkins SAIS (1997-2018)

Dr. Kenneth Lieberthal

John L. Thornton China Center, The Brookings Institution

General John F. Phillips (U.S. Air Force retired)

Deputy Under Secretary of Defense (Logistics) (1995-1998)

The Honorable Joseph W. Prueher

U.S. Ambassador to China (1999-2001)

The Honorable Cark T. Randt, Jr.

U.S. Ambassador to China (2001-2009)

The Honorable J. Stapleton Roy

U.S. Ambassador to Singapore (1984-86), China (1991-95), and Indonesia (1996-1999); Assistant Secretary of State for Intelligence and Research (1999-2000)

Honorary Chairs

Mr. Maurice R. Greenberg

Chairman and CEO, C.V. Starr & Co. Inc.

The Honorable Barbara Hackman Franklin

29th U.S. Secretary of Commerce

President and CEO, Barbara Franklin Enterprises

Honorary Advisors

The Honorable Max Baucus

U.S. Ambassador to China (2014-2017)

U.S. Senator from Montana (1978-2014)

The Honorable Dianne Feinstein

U.S. Senator from California (1992-Present)

Longest currently serving female U.S. Senator

The Honorable Chuck Hagel

24th U.S. Secretary of Defense

U.S. Senator from Nebraska (1997-2009)

The Honorable Henry A. Kissinger

56th U.S. Secretary of State

8th National Security Advisor

His Excellency Zhou Wenzhong

Chinese Ambassador to the U.S. (2005-2010)

Secretary-General, Boao Forum for Asia

U.S.-China Policy Foundation

316 Pennsylvania Ave SE, Suite 202, Washington, DC 20003

202-547-8615 · uscdf@uscdf.org · www.uscdf.org

YouTube: www.youtube.com/user/uscdf

Twitter: @USCPF

A special thank you to our sponsors. A better U.S.-China Relationship depends on you. To donate, visit www.uscdf.org/v3/donate/